DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(c), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(c) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 09/11/2009 has been entered.

Response to Amendment

The amendment filed 09/11/2009 has been entered. Claims 1 and 3-12 are pending. Claims 9-12 were previously withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1 and 3-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Araki et al. (US 5,670,593).

Regarding claims 1 and 4-6, Araki et al. discloses a tetrafluoroethylene polymer aqueous dispersion containing 0.01-80 mol% of a functional fluorine-containing olefin (C6/L8-54) for example the formulas as shown below as well as their derivatives (C25/L26-C26/L49):

Araki et al. discloses in claim 1 the tetrafluoroethylene polymer aqueous dispersion wherein the tetrafluoroethylene polymer has a tetrafluoroethylene unit content of 20-99.99 mol%.

Additionally, it is possible to use no usual free emulsifying agent or decrease an amount thereof (C21/L57-63). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to have selected the overlapping portion of the ranges disclosed by the reference because overlapping ranges have been held to be a prima facie case of obviousness. In re

9Wertheim, 541 F.2d 257, 191 USPQ 90 (CCPA 1976); In re Woodruff, 919 F.2d 1575, 16 USPQ2d 1934 (Fed. Cir. 1990). See MPEP 2144.05.

Regarding claim 3, since the instant specification describes a perfluoro based polymer which has a perfluoro unit content of not lower than 90 mole percent (See [0096-0098] of the corresponding PG Pub), the amount of tetrafluoroethylene in the polymer of Araki et al. meets the claimed range.

Regarding claim 7, Araki et al. does not disclose the tetrafluoroethylene polymer aqueous dispersion which has a solid matter concentration of 5 to 70% by mass. Additionally, Hirashima et al. teaches the solid matter concentration of the water-based emulsion is from 10 to 70 wt% (C8/L55-62). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to obtain a solid matter concentration as taught by Hirashima et al. in a composition of Araki et al. , and the motivation to do so would have been as Hirashima et al. suggests to improving storage stability and viscosity (C8/L55-62).

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Araki et al. (US 5,670,593) in view of Hirashima et al. (US 5,856,392) as applied to claim 1 above, in further view of Araki et al. (WO 95-08598A, see English equivalent (US 5,925,705) for citation).

Regarding claim 8, Araki et al. (US '593) does not disclose the tetrafluoroethylene polymer aqueous dispersion wherein the particle comprising the tetrafluoroethylene polymer has an average primary particle diameter of 50 to 500 nm. Araki et al. (US '705) teaches the particle size is not more than 200 nm (C3/L14-22). Araki et al. (US '593) and Araki et al. (US '705) are analogous art concerned with the same field of endeavor, namely aqueous dispersions of fluoropolymers produced from emulsion polymerization. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to use the particle size of Araki et al. (US '705) in the dispersion of Araki et al. (US '593), and the motivation to do so would have been to improve the stability of the dispersion (C3/L14-22).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1, 3-8, and 13 under 35 USC 103 (a) as being unpatentable over Araki et al. (JP '782) in view of Araki et al. (WO '598) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of newly found prior art. The following comment(s) apply:

A) Applicants' argument that WO '598 does not disclose a dispersion having a fluorine-containing surfactant content of not higher than 50 ppm by mass as required by the instant claims (P7-8) is persuasive.

B) The English equivalent of Araki et al. (JP '782) was used in the rejection above.
